BAD DAY FOR CHAPLEAU.

THE PRINTING BUREAU AS A TORY MACHINE.

How the Dominion Type Foundry "Squared" the Secretary of State's Department—A $1500 "Contribution" — Senecal's Unpleasant "Hunger".

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The investigation into the Printing Bureau was proceeded with by Mr. Lister at the Public Accounts Committee to-day. The first witness was Mr. Morgan, of Buntin, Reid & Co., Toronto. He said that he was 21 years with the firm as traveller. He sold 60 tons of mill board and straw board to the Printing Bureau, the bargain being effected through Senecal. This was the largest order that ever he sold of this kind. He would imagine that half a ton or a ton was a good order. The price was $50 a ton. After having one or two interviews with Senecal the price was arranged in Toronto between them. When he was receiving the order from Senecal, the latter asked for $300 as he was hard up. He said he had some land to pay for. The witness said he never before had paid any commission. Ultimately to secure that order and to keep himself in good standing with a view to getting other orders, he agreed to give Senecal a check for $300. When he offered the check, which was drawn out in his own name and endorsed by him to Senecal, the latter refused, saying that he would only accept money. The witness had to go to the bank, after it was closed and get the money for him. He never told the firm until Friday last, when he mentioned the matter to Reid.

The next witness was D. A. Scott, bookkeeper for the Dominion Type Foundry Co., in whose service he had been for several years. His evidence was equally as startling as that of Patterson, agent for Miller & Richards, given the other day. Witness gave a few checks and Manager Crossby also gave checks to Senecal, but he could not say how much money each check represented. Senecal got from their firm about $18,000 at different times. He was perpetually asking for money from members of the firm. A telegram would come from Senecal to Montreal, stating that he was "hungry," which meant that he wanted more money. In addition to the money he also got several presents to his knowledge. On one occasion Senecal got a mirror worth $60. He also got several cases of champagne—the best of Pommery, worth $29 a case. Witness could not say whether he got five or ten cases. Senecal would come to them occasionally and say that Patterson, of Toronto, paid him so much, why did not they do so? Crossby told witness that he was to complain to Chapleau or Senecal. There was also some trouble about receiving type in the Bureau. Senecal bought a large quantity of type from the firm, and after some of it was manufactured and received in Ottawa Mr. Chapleau wrote him stating that Senecal had no power to make the purchase, notwithstanding that Senecal showed an order authorizing him to do so. After considerable difficulty over the whole matter the type was received.

When witness was asked if the firm contributed towards election funds, objections were raised by Mr Wood and Mr. Foster. Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Lister pressed for an answer to the question, but finally the chairman declared it was out of order. A vote was taken, when the Chair was sustained by 18 to 12. Chapleau then admitted having received a letter from Stark, president of the company, to the effect that the firm had been assessed—or rather forced—to pay a sum towards the Tory Dominion election fund. To this Chapleau replied that no one was authorized to make such an assessment on behalf of the Government.

Mr. Lister—Do you know how this type ultimately got into the bureau, or did you hear?

Witness hesitated and made no reply. Wood again objected.

Lister—I will not ask what he heard, but I want the name, so that I may have him subpœned.

Lister repeated the question, and witness replied, "I know all about it myself."

"Well, how was it?" asked Mr. Lister.

"I forget now the whole particulars, but we were asked to contribute to the Liberal-Conservative fund in Montreal. I made out a check for $1500 to Francis Benoit, president of the Conservative Association, and we had information from Ottawa that our type was accepted in the bureau."

This fell like a thunder-clap on the Tories present, and they were dumb as oysters.

Scott has been nine years with the firm, and says that they never made cash presents to any one until Senecal received them. Crossby was in British Columbia, but was now on his way home. He took away from the safe before leaving the whole of the correspondence relating to this matter, including Chapleau's letter refusing the type at the Printing Bureau. The $1500 solatium, however, had its effect.

Other witnesses gave testimony to similar irregularities in the Bureau.

NEW WESTMINSTER

Amenities in the Council—The City's Costly Purchases.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 8.—A sensation was caused at the city council meeting last night by Ald. Scoullar intimating that Mayor Brown had lied. The Mayor said a certain contractor told him certain things about a contract being done for the city. Ald. Scoullar at once rose and said he did not believe the contractor ever made such a statement. In fact he knew he had not. The Mayor, greatly offended and taken aback, made no reply.

A peculiar thing about the way purchasing for the city is being done is that all appliances for the electric street railway, excepting only the track or roadbed, cost only $60,000, while the electric lighting plant for the city will cost about $85,000. The enormous disparity is already attracting public attention, and it will not be surprising if clamors for an inquiry are heard soon.

Looking for Balmaceda.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chili, via Galveston, says: Rumors continue to spread concerning the whereabouts of the fugitive President Balmaceda. The other day it was said that he was flying by way of Los Andes into the Argentine Republic, his purpose being to reach Buenos Ayres. Now it is reported that, not daring just at this present time to make an attempt to escape from the country, he has taken refuge in some one of the foreign legations, or else has concealed himself in a monastery. If he has been fortunate enough to gain admission to a legation he will in all likelihood be protected from the wrath of his triumphant enemies. If, on the contrary, he has sought refuge in a monastery he is in immiment danger of being captured. The Junta will undoubtedly cause all the mountains to be searched for him, if they put any faith in the report. It seems hardly plausible, however, that he should seek an asylum with the clerical party, as it has been a recognized fact that ever since the outbreak of the war in Chili that the priests were almost unanimously in sympathy with the Congressionalists. Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs Altamirate, while travelling towards Santiago to-day, was stopped by an armed body of men at Quillota, 55 miles from here.

Shot by an Officer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—James Dwyer, a switchman in the employ of the Southern Pacific, was shot at a Fourth street restaurant early this morning by Officer Kelly, and probably fatally wounded. The officer attempted to arrest a man named Motka, when Dwyer attacked the officer, beating him savagely. The latter thereupon fired three shots, one of which entered Dwyer's left leg and the second penetrated the abdomen. The officer is in bed from the effects of Dwyer's attack.

The Hopkins-Searle Case.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 8.—Judge John Beart and Lawyer J. Russell Wilson, San Francisco, counsel in the famous Hopkins-Searle case, which will have its first trial at Salem to-day, arrived here yesterday. Mr. Wilson stated that ex-Secretary Endicott, of Salem, has been added to counsel; and the case will be pushed to the end. The statement as to a settlement out of court, Mr. Wilson says, has not come from his side.

Scrutinizing Italian Immigrants.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A correspondent writes from San Juan del Norte that the government of Nicaragua has issued orders to the governor of that port not to allow Italian immigrants to disembark, unless their respectability is officially vouched for. The correspondent thinks this restriction of Italian immigration is in violation of a treaty between Nicaragua and Italy.

More Bank Men Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—J. Frink Lawrence, formerly clerk in the Keystone National Bank, was arrested this morning on the same charge that Chas. E. Dodgt and L. L. McGuire were arrested on Saturday, that of having falsified the accounts so that the bank examiner and the depositors were deceived.

A Halifax Storm.

HALIFAX, Sept. 8.—A furious southeast hurricane, with vivid lightning and torrents of rain, raged here for three-quarters of an hour last evening. The shute and part of the staying connecting the grain elevator with the deep water wharves were blown down. The yachts Toula and Wenonah were wrecked.

Secretaryship of War.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 7.—Senator Hawley was this morning shown a copy of last night's dispatches, stating that he was at Cape May conferring with President Harrison relative to accepting the place in the cabinet made vacant by the resignation of Secretary Proctor, and gave a direct denial to them.

Failed to Produce Rain.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 6.—Melbourne, the Eastern rain producer, who has been attempting to produce rain here has so far failed. He attributes his failure to Friday's wind storm, and will renew the attempt to-morrow.

Empress of Japan's Mails.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 8.—The City of New York, carrying the Empress of Japan's mails, reached here at 1 p.m. to-day. It is believed that she has beaten all eastern records.

British Columbia Loan.

The Canadian Gazette (London) says: The Bank of British Columbia is instructed by the Government of British Columbia to receive subscriptions for £200,000 3 per cent. inscribed stock at the price of 86. The stock is to be paid off at par on July 1st, 1941, and including this advantage the yield to the investor at the above price is 3¾ per cent. per annum. The credit of British Columbia is beyond question, but the prospectus gives all the main grounds for confidence, as well as several other particulars appertaining to this issue. Here we may summarise them thus:—

The issue is part of £700,000 authorised, of which £250,000 is to be applied to public purposes and the balance to replace the existing debt as it matures.

It is intended to in future apply the sinking funds to the purchase of the present issue.

The Province at present receives a subsidy of £40,000 a year from the Dominion Government as its share of the Customs revenue, &c., with the prospect of an increase to £50,000 on the decennial revision of the basis of population.

The current revenue exceeds the ordinary expenditure.

The Crown lands belonging to the Province amount to about 200,000,000 acres.

BRITISH WORKINGMEN.

THE TRADES UNION CONGRESS AT NEWCASTLE.

No Concessions at the Dardanelles—The Distress in Russia—Naval and Military Manœuvres—French Royalists and the Pope—Treves' Harvest.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Trades Union congress at Newcastle, which opened yesterday, promises to have an important influence on the future course of English politics. The large number of labor candidates for parliament who are in training for the next general election has already caused serious anxiety to the Liberal leaders, who do not favor this sort of representation, and think that the workingmen ought to be satisfied to accept reforms at the hands of the Liberal party. Mr. Gladstone himself is said to feel this way, and while he does not oppose he gives no active personal encouragement to labor candidates. Among trade unions there is a strong feeling that workingmen should be directly represented in parliament in order to secure desired changes in the laws, and that the Liberals ought to be willing to receive the labor representatives with open arms. This subject will be fully discussed in the congress.

RUSSIA'S FLEET AND ARMY.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says that the Russian naval manœuvres will be unusually interesting this year. The plan of operations is based on the consummation of a blockade of the Gulf of Finland by an enemy's squadron. It is supposed that a hostile fleet has already made itself master of the Baltic and is engaged in the double task of blockading the Gulf of Finland from Cronstadt and damaging the commerce of the neighboring ports by capturing the coasting vessels. The Russian fleet consequently finds itself compelled to defend the chief Finnish posts, and is directed with a view to that object. The Russian ships will be distributed among the islands of the Finnish archipelago. A despatch from Odessa tells of a great amount of activity displayed in the different military camps in South Russia during the summer just passed. Every battalion for more than 80 or 100 days has been engaged in tactical exercises, and during the last month work has been carried on as if on the battle field. The manœuvres have shown, however, some weak points in the Russian armor; as, for instance, the fact that an enemy could land in force just outside of Odessa and attack the city without having encountered a foe.

FRENCH ROYALISTS AND THE POPE.

The Papal Court, according to a dispatch from Rome, is deeply moved by the antagonistic attitude assumed by the Count of Paris and the French royalists generally towards the papacy, on account of the Pope's recognition of the French republic. The Count of Paris has withdrawn the subsidies which he has hitherto accorded to the Pope and to the French clergy for sustaining his cause. This alone shows his deep provocation, and Leo XIII is proportionately impressed and disturbed.

TREVES REAPS A HARVEST.

A Treves dispatch says that the sale of rosaries and other religious objects in Treves has been immense. One Cologne firm has sold more than 200,000 marks' worth of such articles, while the sales of an agency of a Paris firm amount to more than 180,000 francs. It is estimated by the authorities of Treves that the citizens will make a total extra income of about 2,000,000 of marks out of the pilgrimage. Among the visitors to the holy coat are a man of 86 years, and a widow of 80, both of them belonging to a village near Treves, who saw the relic in 1810 and in 1844 and now in 1891. Sixty-five thousand is the number of pilgrims admitted into the cathedral daily.

THE KAISER AT MUNICH.

The Kaiser's reception at Munich has inspired much gratification in Berlin, where it was apprehended that Bavarian particularism might show itself. The celebration in the evening was even finer than in the morning and the Kaiser showed that he cordially appreciated the evident loyalty of Bavaria. The Bavarian troops are in the best condition, and have been busily preparing for the Imperial review. The Kaiser proposed to pay a visit to the idiotic King Otto, but was dissuaded from this on account of the painful condition of that monarch, who is with difficulty restrained from violence.

RUSSIA AND THE DARDANELLES.

In a letter to a correspondent, Lord Salisbury, referring to the privileges which the Porte is supposed to have granted Russia by permitting vessels of her volunteer fleet to pass the Dardanelles, says Russia possesses no rights as to the passage of the Dardanelles or the Bosphorous which are not possessed by other nations also.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

The houses of several of the promoters of the Panama Canal Company in Paris were to-day visited by the police with a view to obtaining additional evidence for use in the investigation of the affairs of the canal.

A FAMILY SUICIDES.

A whole family in Paris, numbering six members, committed suicide yesterday. The father and mother first hanged themselves, and the others who were adult children imitated their parents.

THE DISTRESS IN RUSSIA.

The Paris correspondent of the Times discussing the situation in Russia says that after Rothschilds' refusal to advance a loan to Russia, it was found it would require £12,000,000 to relieve distress there, while the poverty of the people would cause a large reduction in the custom receipts from the sale of alcohol, and the expense of increasing her armament would aggregate a deficit of £35,000,000 or £40,000,000. Russia eagerly seized the Cronstadt entente to make a fresh but futile application to the Rothschilds, who represented the difficulty France herself would be in, having to pay from £30,000,000 to £40,000,000 in gold for American wheat. Then other bankers were approached, and they agreed to advance a loan to Russia at the same price as was offered by the Rothschilds, namely about 82. This loan cannot be negotiated before October. It will be issued at 84 or 85½, and will be absorbed by petty investors, as the large houses, especially Jewish, dislike Russian loans.

The Standard's Moscow correspondent, commenting on the demands from all quarters for measures to relieve distress, says that plainly distress greater and more widespread than was at first supposed is still to come.

Corn Speculator Commits Suicide.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—Emil Treatel, the corn speculator who recently failed, has committed suicide.

WAS NEAR BUT DIDN'T KNOW.

The Late J. H. Edward's Cousin a Petty Officer on H.M.S. Warspite.

On Sunday, July 29th, the day that J. H. Edwards, his two sons, William Morrison and McGinnis were drowned while out sailing, a torpedo boat from H.M.S. Warspite was out looking for the missing midshipmen. In the torpedo boat was H. Bridgewater, E.R.A., of H.M.S Warspite, who heard of the awful accident and fatal results of a sailing party, but not until Saturday last did he know that in that party was a near relative of his.

Mr. Bridgewater was a first cousin of the late J. H. Edwards, but did not know that Edwards had ever been in Victoria until last Saturday when he received a letter from his sister giving particulars of the sad accident and asking him to wind up the affairs of the deceased, which he is now doing.

From Mr. Bridgewater it is learned that Mr. Edwards was a prosperous jeweler of Norwich, England. In May last he lost his second wife and was left with four children—all boys. After the death of his wife he started for Victoria, with the intention of buying a farm and burying his sorrow in his new field of labor. He left his two youngest sons, mere children with Mr. Bridgewater's sister in Chester, England, and started for Victoria. He arrived here and then came the terrible accident with which the readers of the TIMES are well acquainted. Edwards was possessed of quite a little property in England and his life was insured for $3000. His affairs will be wound up by Mr. Bridgewater for the benefit of the two surviving sons.

The squatters on the Smith & Fife tract, at Tacoma, claim they have found the brother of Sproule, the original owner of the land, and that before Sproule was hanged at Victoria, B.C., he made a will bequeathing all his effects to this brother. This brother, who lives in Southern California, will, it is said, give the squatters a quit-claim deed to the property for the sum of $25,000. An effort will be made to raise that amount.

Current History.

The "Quarterly Register of Current History," published by the Evening News Association, Detroit, Mich., is a periodical worthy of much praise. It is issued quarterly, No. 3, Vol. 1, covering the second quarter of 1891, being just to hand. The publication, as its name indicates, is devoted to a review of each quarter-year's history, and the work is admirably executed. The current number opens with a review of the Behring Sea dispute, a question of peculiar interest to Victorians at present. The treaty with Spain and the New Orleans massacre are among the other international topics dealt with, and all United States and foreign events of any importance are taken up in their turn. The price is only $1 a year, or 25 cents a number.

Commencing Monday we will sell tan and summer goods at cost. Carmichael & Patterson, 35 Johnson street.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Grand Trunk and C. P. R.—Chapleau's Position—Various Events.

The Woodstock electric light works building was damaged by fire. Loss $6000.

The Saonia Salt Company, boring at that place, struck a fine bed of salt at a depth of 1540 feet.

The postmaster of Newport, Quebec, has been sentenced to two years, with hard labor, for robbing registered letters.

Martin Carley, cattle drover, was killed by a train at Toronto. He is supposed to have been under the influence of liquor at the time.

The Erie Beach hotel and the old Erie Grove, with outbuildings, at Fort Erie, have been destroyed. Loss, $16,000, no insurance.

C.P.R. returns for the traffic week ending August 31st were $544,000; for the same week last year, $490,000. Earnings of the New Brunswick railway included both years.

The body of Susan Kerr, who disappeared from Maidstone, Essex county, recently, has been discovered in the river at Wyandotte, Mich. She was subject to fits of insanity.

A young man was found stowed away in the hold of the steamship Colina when it arrived at Quebec. He had had nothing to eat for 10 days, and his condition is critical. He refuses to give his name.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., the Albion Hotel has been burned. The places of business of the following persons were damaged: Holliday & Johns, butchers; Palin & Plummer. Loss $7000, insurance $5500.

The right leg of Jas Greenwood, of Chippewa, Ont., who was reported to have gone over Niagara Falls last week, has been found in the river below the falls, and identified by a running sore from which Greenwood suffered.

Rev. Jeremiah Graham, one of the pioneers of York county, having come from New York state in 1811 and settled in East Gwillimbury, near Sharon, is dead, aged 90. He was one of the supporters of William Lyon Mackenzie in 1837.

In answer to an enquiry from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa the secretary of the Quebec board of trade has replied that according to information gathered by him it appears there is no rye for export from the districts above and below Quebec.

The National Electric Light convention and exhibition, which commenced at Montreal on Monday, was opened by the Governor-General. The convention itself is held in the Windsor Hotel, while the exhibition occupies the whole floor space of 15,000 square feet in the Victoria skating rink, involving the expenditure of $50,000. About 600 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada are attending.

Asked of the truth of the amalgamation of the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific roads, Sir Henry Tyler said: "There is no possible chance of amalgamation. The two companies will continue to work each in its own territory and for their own objects." Sir Henry denied the rumors that a Canadian board of directors would be appointed and important changes made in the personnel of the company.

The body of Robert Hooper, an Englishman aged 21, formerly of Toronto, brother-in-law of T. S. Lobb, dry goods merchant of that city, arrived there recently from Colorado Springs, United States, where it had been found on the roadside. A postmortem examination showed that death had resulted from poisoning. Hooper's watch and money were missing when the body was discovered, and the police are working up the case.

Count Howitz, of Puckan, Germany, on a pleasure tour around the world, at Philadelphia became acquainted with a woman who agreed to accompany him on his travels. They arrived in Halifax a few days ago. The woman made a demand on him for a large sum, alleging that she would have him arrested on a charge of abducting her. The count gave her $500 and was to have paid her $100 more. Meanwhile he informed the police, who arrested the woman, but after disgorging the money she had received from the count she was allowed to go.

The Globe says: Chapleau is getting deeper into the mud. He admits having dunned business men having dealings with government for "election proceedings." According to any decent code of ethics this is a wholly indefensible proceeding. It does not differ in principle from Senecal's practices of demanding commissions, and a commission sale in Senecal's pocket probably injured the community far less than election subscriptions in Chapleau's hands. Chapleau deserves the bowstring almost as rickly as Sir Hector. If the stealings in connection with his department have not been on the colossal scale of those in the public works it is simply because the opportunities were more limited and the rascals had not the same wide scope for their predatory instincts.

THE GREAT NORTHERN.

President Hill Visits Seattle and Talks About His Road.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, with several companions, arrived here yesterday in his private car. In conversation with a reporter Mr. Hill said:—

"They have been getting along rather slowly with the Seattle & Montana road, and I want to see how they are getting along with it. I think it will be finished in a week or ten days. The New Westminster Southern will be operated as soon as we get this road connected through, but I can't tell how we shall cross the river to New Westminster until I have seen the place.

"On the main line the route has been settled on as far as Chatteroy. We are building a road from the east, and have not decided on the route any further west. We have run several lines beyond there, but there are some difficult questions to settle. It is a difficult matter to get down to and up from the Columbia river with easy grades. If a railroad is going to do a great deal of good to the country it has to get to do business at a low price. We can't lift it over a hill as cheaply as we can run it on the level. The difference is the same as that between one horse or a cayuse and two big cart horses.

"The route by which we shall cross the cascades is nearly settled, but we have not decided on the pass. I can tell you it won't be the Skagit; I think it will be south of that."

"There are a number of reports about the pass by which the road will cross the mountains," remarked the reporter.

"Those questions are of very little importance," replied Mr. Hill. "No matter what crack in the mountains we come through, the rates will be the same for all places. It will make no more difference than if the wind blows fifteen points more or less to the northwest. It's the country that is going to make the cities—or its natural wealth converted into money. You can't eat logs, ore, etc."

"Are you going to do anything about the Portland and Puget Sound road?"

"The Great Northern owns half of that road, and we must consult our partners about it. We cannot go ahead and build it without them. We shall not build a separate road to Portland, but shall wait for the construction of the Portland and Puget Sound. The condition of the Union Pacific is greatly improved; it has settled with all its creditors. The mistake Mr. Adams made was that he began building the road before he knew where the money was coming from to finish it."

"The condition of the money market is not much improved since the shaking up of last fall. Speculation has increased the price of some stocks. We have a big crop, but Europe has not got to take it. How is she going to pay for it? How is a poor man in Gumangar Island who has been living on a loaf of rye bread, going to pay for it? He can't sell his hands or his head. Europe can't send us gold in payment. If she were to send back all the gold taken from us in the last six months, it would put the people over there in a state of panic, and we should feel it in this country: you would feel it here on Puget Sound. Europe and America are so close together now that the effect of a panic there is felt promptly in this country.

Mr. Hill and his party leave this morning on a trip down the Seattle & Montana road, and will then go on down Sound.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is Peculiar to Itself.

Don't You Forget It.

"I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of summer complaint and was given up by the doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and at the second dose I was relieved and soon was well as ever."—Maggie McGillivray, Falkenburg, Ont.

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD.

Incomparable Comforts and Conveniences for Travellers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1, 1891.

Sometimes we make good resolves at the beginning of the year—and break them. I think it better to do than merely resolve. Let me begin the year right by telling the thousands of daily readers of the Railway and Hotel News that, no matter what railway managers may induce tooters to claim, the fact is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul vestibuled train that leaves St. Paul for Chicago every evening at eight is the captain of all the "common carriers" in his neck of woods. And I say this without desiring in any sense to detract from the merits of other roads. They all have their popular features. Each has some special merit. But the "Milwaukee" possesses all these and has added some of her own. This favorite company recently decided to own its own sleeping cars, and some of the new ones that have been put into service in the last month are the most luxurious, most beautiful and best constructed sleepers ever built by any company. There is no suggestion of "gingerbread" anywhere, but solid comfort, rest, a sort of feeling as if at last we had found the great desideratum in sleeping car interiors.

Business required me to visit Chicago last Saturday evening and I selected the "Milwaukee" vestibuled because I had got a straight tip from a very prominent New York theatrical manager who had recently tried it. He declared it to be the greatest train in America. Now this is saying a good deal for there are some fairly good trains banging over the American Continent. Well, I took his tip. I fortunately got "lower 12" in one of the new sleepers of the company. Just over my head near the window a shaded electric light sent forth its penetrating gleams. The temperature of the train is kept uniformly at about seventy degrees, as it is heated by steam from a "heat and power car" next the engine. This car also furnishes the electric light for the train.

With a sigh of relief after a hard day's work I laid back on the upholstered cushions and scanned a St. Paul evening paper. The sleeper was rapidly filling up. There were two or three young ladies traveling alone, apparently as much at home as if they were under their own roof. It is a maxim with the "Milwaukee" management, and all train employes are strictly enjoined on this point, that weak and unprotected travelers over the lines of the company are, for the time being, the special charge of each and every employe.

* * * * * * *

At 11 p.m. I "wrapped the drapery of my couch about me and lay down to pleasant dreams," and if ever one slept the sleep of the innocent and the just, it was the subscriber that night. Snow white sheets and pillow cases, downy pillows, warm blankets, thick and soft hair mattresses, all combined to woo the drowsy god Somnus in my behalf.

* * * * * * *

At Milwaukee the dining car was attached. I had thought of breakfasting at the Auditorium in Chicago, but a friend returned from his breakfast and assured me I could not afford to let that breakfast get away. And now I know I couldn't. Like the vestibuled train itself, it was "out of sight" in all particulars.

I had never been able to understand why the "Milwaukee," with so many active competitors as it has in St. Paul and Minneapolis, had been able to hold the "balance of power" as it does, with the travelling public. I know now, and I don't mind telling you: In every new departure marking a distinct advance, in utilizing every new device to add to the comfort and safety of its patrons, in the affability of its employees, and in general excellence, the "Milwaukee" is easily first. It's the model railway line between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and as compared with some of its would-be rivals is away "Out of Sight." H.

More Fires at the Dalles.

THE DALLES, Sept. 6.—Last night at 9 o'clock fire broke out in the district agricultural stables, and before it could be stopped thirty-two stalls were destroyed. Three valuable race horses being trained for the approaching fair were burned. The loss is about $2000. A man was arrested this morning on the suspicion of being an incendiary.

Fire broke out again this evening at 7 o'clock in T. J. Peters' barn, and was under good headway before water could be used. The building is a total loss. Three work horses were burned before the doors could be opened. Loss, $800. It is supposed that it was the work of an incendiary. The citizens are greatly excited, and demand that the city be placed under martial law until the fire bugs are driven out. If the incendiaries are caught it is probable they will be lynched.

Fatal Political Quarrel.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 6.—Word has been received from the little town of Race Track, in Deer Lodge county, of a murder which happened there yesterday. Bryant McDonald, farmer, and Lee Odair, miner, were in a saloon drinking heavily and finally became engaged in a political discussion. McDonald stooped down to tie his shoe string and Odair grabbed him by the back of the neck with one hand and pummeled his face with the other. McDonald could not recover an upright position for a fair fight, and this so exasperated him that he drew his revolver and fired four shots at Odair, three of them taking effect in his side. McDonald gave himself up. An Anaconda physician went to the wounded man last night, but could do nothing for him.

Russia's Confidante.

ST PETERSBURG, Sept. 6.—The Russian newspapers express confidence that, in view of the entente between France and Russia, the powers will hesitate to protest against Turkey's concession to Russia in the matter of the Dardanelles, for fear of raising thorny questions relative to Bosnia, Egypt and Cyprus, while Turkey, strengthened by the knowledge of the Franco-Russian entente as a counterpoise to the dreibund will not easily be intimidated. Troops numbering 150,000 have been ordered to Warsaw, thus bringing the Russian forces on the Polish frontier up to 500,000.

The Powers and China.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the Times says: Shanghai telegrams state that the powers are forcing China to recognize the Shanghai armed volunteers, a body which has existed for a long time on sufferance. Chang Jay governor of Shang Tung, is dead. He would probably have become viceroy if he had lived.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Gaulois to-day proposes that the government of France in concert with the governments of other powers interested, shall send an ultimatum to China in regard to the outrages upon foreigners in the recent anti-European riots.

THE TORY POLICY.

The Colonist in alleging that a change has come over the Liberals in respect of approving of or in any way subscribing to the policy of the present administration cannot have read the Liberal papers very closely. The Globe at no time has ceased to disprove of the methods of the present Government. Its latest utterance is to this effect: "There can be no doubt that it was a black day for Canada when the people restored the impenitent heroes of the Pacific Scandal. That act confirmed the Old Man in his belief that the country wanted to be bribed. * * * If a province showed signs of revolting against Tory rule the Old Man applied anæsthetics in the form of better terms or of some heroic railroad enterprise carried through at the public expense. * * * Members of Parliament were treated handsomely by being allowed to obtain timber limits for a trifle. * * * He (the Old Man) carried on his vile work under the mask of devoted patriotism * * * Can it be that Mr. Abbott is likely to prove an efficient savior? He makes a parade of his good intentions, but hell is paved with that kind of dross."

Edward Blake's verdict, as expressed in his famous West Durham letter, was:

The Canadian Conservative policy has failed to accomplish the predictions of its promoters.

Its real tendency is towards disintegration and annexation instead of consolidation and the maintenance of British connection.

It has left us with a small population, a scanty immigration and a Northwest empty still.

It has left us with enormous additions to our public debt.

It has led to an extravagant system of expenditure and an unjust and oppressive tariff.

It has left us restricted markets and a host of evils arising therefrom.

It has diverted trade from its natural into forced channels, and therefore into less profitable channels.

It has left us with unfriendly relations and frowning tariff walls, estranging us from the mighty English-speaking nation to the south, with whom we ought to be, as it was promised we should be, living in generous amity and liberal intercourse.

"Worse, far worse." It has left us with lowered standards of public virtue, and a death-like apathy in public opinion.

It has left us racial, religious and Provincial animosities rather inflamed than soothed.

It has left us with a subservient Parliament, an autocratic executive.

It has left us with debauched constituencies, and corrupted and corrupting classes.

It has left us with lessened self-reliance and increased dependence on the public chest and on legislative aids.

It has left us possessed withal by a boastful jingo spirit far enough removed from true manliness, loudly proclaiming unreal conditions and exaggerated sentiments, while actual facts and genuine opinions are suppressed.

It has left us with our hands tied and our future compromised.

The House of Commons at present is discussing the following amendment to supply offered by Sir Richard Cartwright:

That it appears from the official returns, recently laid on the table of this House, that the total population of the Dominion of Canada, on or about the 1st day of April, 1891, was 4,829,344.

That it further appears from the report of the Department of Agriculture for the year 1890, that the total number of immigrants stated by the said department to have settled in Canada from the 1st day of January, 1881, to the 31st December, 1890, was in all 866,171.

That according to the last census the population of the Dominion on or about the 1st of April, 1881, was 4,324,810. That the total increase of the population of Canada in the 10 years now past was 504,534.

That at the rate of 2¼ per cent. per annum, the natural increase of the population of Canada during the last 10 years would amount to 1,077,581, without any immigration.

That at the same rate of 2¼ per cent. per annum the natural increase of the said 866,171 immigrants officially reported to have settled in Canada between the years 1880 and 1890 would have amounted to 110,439.

That had the same natural rate of increase been maintained, and the said immigrants remained in Canada, the total population of Canada would now amount to 6,404,944.

That according to statements made by members of the government in their places in this House, and according to official documents, at least 400,000 square miles of fertile country heretofore unoccupied in the northwest portion of Canada have been made accessible and available for settlement within the last 10 years. That the said new territory amounts to 256,000,000 acres, being an area equal to twelve times the entire area of occupied land in the province of Ontario at the present time, and being fully five times as large as the whole occupied area of the five provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in 1881.

That it appears from the above recited facts that the difference between the actual increase of the population of Canada, and the natural increase together with the immigrants officially reported to have settled in Canada, is 1,568,600.

That during the last ten years the actual taxation of the people of Canada has been enormously increased under the operations of the existing tariff.

That the deplorable state of things disclosed by the above mentioned returns imperatively commands a radical change in the policy and methods of Government followed by the administration.

But why continue to quote to the effect that Toryism is exemplified by the present administration and Liberalism are irrepressibly antagonistic? The Colonist for the past week or so has had very little to say on the situation at Ottawa, and imagines that the Liberal press has fallen into the same condition of argumentative desuetude.

ARMY CLASS DISTINCTIONS.

Since it became possible for private soldiers to rise from the ranks to a commission in the British army, it is a common thing for scions of the gentry and nobility to enlist as private soldiers and gradually rise by examinations to be officers. It is well understood that these young gentlemen will not remain in the ranks very long and that birth rather than merit is regarded in promotion. But while in the ranks the sprigs of nobility are terribly galled by the social rules laid down for the government of the army, and do not want to be considered like the ordinary Tommy Atkins. Up to recently the officers had their mess and the corporals and privates their canteen. In order to draw the line more clearly between non-commissioned officers and privates, Secretary of War Stanhope has established also a corporals' mess. At hotels and resorts in barrack towns similar distinctions are made, private soldiers being denied refreshment at places frequented by their superiors. A vigorous protest as to the town part of the system is being made by the gentlemen soldiers, and their noble relatives are sustaining the agitation. These arrangements will demoralize the British army. The non-commissioned officers should not be segregated from the men. The moment class distinctions are established in the army—and that is what these corporal's and sergeant's messes mean—that moment does the comradeship inseparable from the proper esprit de corps cease and the army as a fighting machine loses virtue. Anything like class distinction between enlisted men should be carefully avoided, and especially is this true of these latter days. The British bloods who enlist with the tacit understanding that promotion awaits them at the earliest practicable opportunity should remember that it is not contact but affiliation with inferiors that is disgraceful.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir Hector, our Ottawa correspondent intimates, will not be asked to resign as one supposed to have profited pecuniarily from his transactions with Uncle Thomas. It is difficult to see how the committee can arrive at such a conclusion as this. As Sir Hector is not non compos mentis he either stole or he did not, and the evidence is overwhelming that he did steal. Unless the committee unqualifiedly reports Sir Hector to be in their opinion a boodler they will stultify themseves, and advertise the fact more widely than ever that the Conservative party of Canada is led and managed by moral idiots.

There is a story going the rounds of the American papers to the effect that Sir Charles Tupper is to be summoned from London to give evidence before the investigation tribunal as to the disposition of certain public moneys and the awarding of certain government contracts during his incumbency of office. Canadians know, of course, that this is only a story, for there is no prospect of Sir Charles being put "on the rack." We have no doubt, however, that he could tell an interesting tale if he were in the mind. The New Glasgow, N.S., Eastern Chronicle, thus refers to his case: "A quarter of a century ago Sir Charles Tupper was a Nova Scotian politician of small means. To-day he is an English baron and Canadian millionaire. A member of the Government cannot become a millionaire in a few years out of his official salary if he discharges his duties honestly."

Says the Winnipeg Tribune: "In the face of the duty on binding twine, which it was thought would prove a veritable stone wall against American manufacturers, the latter are sending into Manitoba large quantities of twine to bind the sheaves of Manitoba wheat, and, as usual, the farmer is paying the piper. Eight carloads of American twine arrived in Winnipeg on Saturday via the Northern Pacific, and other shipments equally large have come in since harvesting commenced. Possibly, the farmers, as Tom Daly said in the House of Commons at Ottawa, do not care. They not only have to pay about 30 per cent. more than is necessary for their twine, but in many cases they have been inconvenienced by the supply running out in the one-horse, pap fed concerns, which have been given a monopoly of the trade by the Government at Ottawa." It is in such things as these that we should look for the causes of the exodus.

Toronto Mail: The Toronto correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press, who is an enthusiastic admirer of Mr. Howard Vincent, speaking of that gentleman's meeting in this city, says: "Before he got through with our hard-headed, unemotional Board of Trade last Tuesday night he had taffied them up to the top of their bent as the most intelligent and influential body of men he had ever had the honor and good fortune of meeting, and citizens of the noblest, most progressive, and enlightened city of the latter end of the nineteenth century, or, as Serjeant Buzfuz says, 'Words to that effect.'" Can it be wondered, the correspondent asks, that the meeting endorsed Mr. Vincent's sentiments with only one dissenting voice, and voted him a jolly good fellow into the bargain? Great is the power of taffy.

Should Mr. Vincent, when he reaches Victoria, go into the taffy business somebody ought to be accommodating enough to refer him to some of the two years ago reports of the Board of Trade. Mr. Vincent, also, should be asked what he thinks of $6000 for harbor improvements and $20,000 for drill sheds.

Whatever the amount of injury done by frost to Manitoba wheat this year, the Manitobans have been stirred up to look for an earlier variety of wheat than the red Fyfe, and the Ladoga wheat is regarded as a good substitute. In talking over crop prospects recently, Mr. L. M. Jones, ex-Treasurer of the Province, spoke of the Ladoga variety, and the results of the experiments on the Brandon farm, where it was demonstrated that this wheat ripened eleven days earlier than the red Fyfe. "Those eleven days," remarked Mr. Jones, "may mean a year to the farmer." He was confident that damage had been done, but the harvest would nevertheless be one of the best ever gathered. The millers are taking the matter up, and the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. has decided to secure a large quantity of the Ladoga wheat and grind the whole in one continuous run, so that the flour will be entirely free from admixture with other varieties. If the flour thus produced stands the test well the wheat will no doubt, to a large measure, supplant the tardier red Fyfe.

If Col. Howard Vincent does not succeed in converting Canadians better than in pleasing the people "at home" his mission will be a gloomy failure. A cable dispatch to the Montreal Star says:

Howard Vincent's doings in Canada have attracted the notice of English federationists. Some comments in Imperial Federation, the official organ of the league, betray Col. Vincent's failure to carry the home party with him in support of his mission. In substance, Imperial Federation politely tells Col. Vincent that he quite misrepresented the case in assuring his Canadian hearers that Englishmen were ready and willing to give a preferential tariff. It adds: "Neither the rulers nor the people of this country have any notion of returning to the system of protection under whatever name it is presented without obtaining some national advantage far greater than any one in the colonies has yet ventured so much as to hint at. They may be wrong but the facts must be faced and this is a very substantial fact." The Canadian Gazette also shows how Col. Vincent has failed to meet grave objections levelled by Canadian cities at his proposals.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Dr. Helmcken Addresses the Board on the City's Commerce.

At the adjourned monthly meeting of the council of the board of trade held this morning there were present: President T. B. Hall in the chair, and Messrs. A. C. Flummerfelt, Joshua Davies, W. F. Bullen, D. R. Ker, C. E. Renouf, W. H Ellis and T. Johnson.

A communication was read from the Vancouver Board of Trade, saying that Col. Howard Vincent would lecture to the board of trade of that city, and extending an invitation to the Victoria Board of Trade to be present.

Dr. Helmcken, on rising to address the board, said it might possibly appear presumptious on his part to speak before the board on such a subject as Victoria's commercial connections. He spoke of the unsatisfactory communication between this city and Comox, and said that he intended to confine his remarks altogether to the east coast of Vancouver Island. He explained how, that owing to the slowness of the steamer Isabel and the amount of time it took to go as far as Comox, taking four days for the round trip, and then not allowing time for business, that settlers and business men could not afford to lose the time. Then, again, the steamer made no connection with the railway, which was owned by the same company. The freight rates were also excessive, and rendered it impossible for Victoria to compete successfully for the commerce of the east coast. Vancouver had already taken advantage of the sleepiness of Victoria and established a daily service with Nanaimo, and a short route would have cut with Comox. He did not complain of the action taken by Vancouver in accomplishing this, but he did complain of the inaction of the people of Victoria, because the trade of Victoria would eventually be lost unless some means were taken to prevent it. The cause of this was that the railroad and the steamers were both in the hands of the Dunsmuirs & Co. It was plain to him that they had a monopoly, and that the trade of Victoria was in their hands. The future of the city depended on the action of the citizens. Unless Victoria secures and holds the trade that rightly belongs to her she will not progress. What is needed is cheaper steamer and railroad rates, and he thought that some arrangement should be made with this company. The Dunsmuirs owned large tracks of land, given them by the Government, not more for the benefit of the Dunsmuirs themselves than for that of the whole country. Property given by the people has a duty to perform to the public. The Dunsmuirs, as property owners, have not done their duty. They were in a position to do a great deal of good for the country and Victoria. Some influence should be brought to bear on them. It is of the utmost concern that something should be done to retain and develop the trade of the east coast. Comox and the Union mines were no better settlements than they were years ago; they made no progress, and only because of the great expense of getting there. Companies seem to act on the principle of fleecing everybody. It was plain to him that unless more rapid and cheap communication was soon established, Vancouver would soon take from her the trade that rightly belonged to Victoria and be built up at our expense. What settler can afford to pay $20 for a trip from Comox and return? The Dunsmuir Company was in a position to do much harm or good to this city, as they willed, and the fate of the city seemed for the time to be in their hands, but remember any harm they may do the city must do harm to themselves and vice versa. Of course if the company remained obdurate, opposition to them must come, and the sooner the better. People who could afford to build a $250,000 hotel, could at all events send a swift, commodious, but not necessarily elegant steamer to carry freight and passengers at a medium rate along the East Coast and among the islands in the Gulf. Opposition is not pleasant, and it would be well for everybody were the Dunsmuirs to make friends instead of enemies. It will not take much to run a steamer such as the one mentioned. The people of the settlements would patronize and the merchants of Victoria ought to encourage and support it.

Mr. Renouf said that the same was true of the Fraser River country. On account of other cities having daily cheap communication Victoria was losing ground there.

Mr. Davies thought the merchants of Victoria had only themselves to blame. What was wanted was competition in transportation. Washington had gone ahead of British Columbia simply because it had rapid and cheap steamboat and railway communication all through the country.

Mr. Ker thought that this matter was of the utmost importance. There was no doubt that it was the system of high freight rates that worked against Victoria, and also the inconvenience of communication. A Nanaimo merchant coming to Victoria was compelled to remain over night in order to transact any business. It was altogether different if he went to Vancouver. It was so arranged that a merchant could leave Nanaimo early in the morning, arriving in Vancouver by 10 o'clock, transact his business and be home again in time for supper. Besides this, the difference in freight rates discriminated against Victoria. From Vancouver to Nanaimo freight was carried for $1.50, while Victoria had to pay $3.25.

Dr. Helmcken here withdrew, the chairman thanking him for the interest he had displayed.

It was moved by Mr. Renouf, and seconded by Mr. Flummerfelt that a committee be appointed consisting of the president and Messrs. M. T. Johnston, W. H. Ellis, Joshua Davies and D. R. Ker to interview the various transportation companies relative to reduction of freight rates and more efficient service to Comox and intermediate points; also to Westminster and the Lower Fraser. The motion carried.

The Coal Gave Out.

The Walla Walla had an interesting trip on her last voyage to Victoria. According to one of her passengers she was in a bad fog, in which she struck wide of Cape Flattery. In this state of affairs her coal supply gave out, and she would have been in a bad fix had there not been ten tons of Cumberland coal among her cargo. This was hoisted out and used in her furnaces. With this she was enabled to reach port.

Where Is Michael Fletcher?

Mr. Thos. Bennett, Dominion immigration agent at Winnipeg, writes to ascertain if possible the whereabouts of Michael Fletcher, who arrived in Brandon on the 1st of July, 1886, and after working about among the farmers and on the Hudson's Bay Railway went to British Columbia, and has not been heard of since. The last time of writing was on the day of his arrival at Brandon. Michael is described as being rather tall, slight and fair, an only son, and a steady young man.—Calgary Tribune.

The Jubilee Hospital.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital was held yesterday in the hospital room. There were present: Joshua Davies, President, Wm. M. Chudley, Charles Hayward, A. C. Flummerfelt, J. S. Yates and E. A. McQuade. There were none of the directors of the French Hospital at the meeting. The usual batch of monthly accounts was passed to the finance committee for payment. It was decided that a donor of $250 would have the privilege of nominating to a bed in the hospital. Several other matters of detail were dealt with.

Police Court Notes.

James Smith, for assaulting John Begg was fined $7 and costs or one month. M. J. Phipps was charged with an infraction of the revenue by-law. The revenue tax and costs were paid and the case dismissed. Isaac Roberts pleaded guilty to having threatened Agnes Miller. His Honor imposed a fine of $10 and costs or one month's imprisonment, and he was bound over to keep the peace for six months in two sureties of $100 each. J. The Zambesi Libelled

The Zambesi is being held in bonds amounting to $25,000 for the damage done to the schooner Fannie Dutard a couple of weeks ago. Mr. Peacock, the solicitor for the Upton steamship line, has prepared the necessary forms, and it is expected the agents, Messrs. Davidge, will deposit the necessary security to-morrow morning. On the other hand it is expected that the schooner will be libelled by the company for a salvage claim. The steamship will probably leave to-morrow.

The City Council.

There was a special meeting of the city council last evening, at which each item of business considered was referred back to the committee whence it came. The Indian reserve question was sent to the finance committee to report again, after the old discussion had taken place. The crematory matter was also sent back to its committee for a new report, and as regards the census, notice has been posted to-day for the taking of a civic census. The new wards, as prepared and outlined by Mr. Northcote, were adopted by the board. Their boundaries have already been published in these columns. Mr. Leech, city surveyor, will, however, have to prepare official boundaries to be presented to the council. Next year the representation in the city council will be ten aldermen instead of nine as now, being two to each of the five wards.

Crofter Colonization.

Mr. H. Seton-Karr, M. P. for St. Helens, Lancashire, England, who is now visiting here, has long been one of the active workers in the British House of Commons in the interests of colonization, and particularly the movement to benefit the Scotch Crofters. He was parliamentary secretary to the select committee which has just reported on this subject after about two years' investigation. Accordingly, after having taken such an active part, he could not well visit this country without seeking some practical information, gained on the ground, which would assist him in any future step that might be taken in the direction of Crofter colonization. This is especially so as Mr. Begg who appeared before the committee laid British Columbia's advantages pretty thoroughly before it. The committee, too, thought the offer of the British Columbia Government a very favorable one. Mr. Karr has engaged the steamer Emma, and to-night will leave for San Juan valley which was suggested by Mr. Begg as a desirable place to commence Crofter colonization. He will, though, be back Saturday morning, by which time he expects the Crofter commissioners, Col. Engledue and Major Clarke, will have returned. Mr. Karr is seeking information on his own account and is not interested in any capitalists. When leaving home he was asked by Lord Logan to collect data which might be of service in colonization.

An Interesting Hobby.

One of Dr. Milne's hobbies is the raising of high class poultry, and he has carried it to the extent of a high class art. In a pleasantly situated spot a few miles out of Victoria he has what he calls his ranch, and here he has an old retainer he familiarly calls "Mac" who is as ardent a lover of fine poultry as the doctor himself. In his own matter of fact, practical way he knows a good deal about the various birds, their habits, ailments, wants and fancies. It is to this spot that the doctor often takes a run when his patients do not require his attention, and, with Mac, will spend the afternoon in a council of war or otherwise on the birds. The doctor has an admirable selection, comprising brown and white Leghorns, black Minorcas, light and dark Brahmas, Plymouth Rocks, laced Wyandottes, Partridge Cochins, black Langshans, white and buff Cochins and white Wyandottes. In addition to these there are several of the best varieties of ducks and turkeys. The arrangements made for their comfort are without doubt perfect, the essential principle of cleanliness being the all important consideration. The consequence is that there is not a sickly or "mean" looking bird in the whole collection numbering probably 400. A representative number of each variety will be exhibited at the coming show, and the doctor will without doubt score his share, if not more, of the prizes to be awarded. An interesting experiment he has tried, is that of caponizing a number of birds. He has met with considerable success in this, and several of the results will be exhibited. They have grown into large and handsome birds.

SEEN BUT NOT FOUND.

THE POLICE ARE UNABLE TO FIND HATTIE MAY.

Mr. Belyea says she was Seen on Government Street. Judgment to be Given This Afternoon—No Evidence Brought Forward To-day.

August May, the prosecutor in the case charging E. Fried with abduction, was still in the witness box when the TIMES went to press yesterday afternoon. He stated in re-examination that he went to Mr. Belyea's office where certain papers were drawn up. Mr. Belyea told him that his fee would be $20. After he saw his daughter the second time he went back to Mr. Belyea and said he would pay him the $20 if he would guarantee to get him his daughter. It was explained to him that if he signed the warrant he would get his daughter back and also that the defendant would be punished. He wanted his daughter back for motives of affection. She could stay home for years if she was not working.

To His Honor—After he left Mr. Belyea's office he went to Fried's house and got his daughter. She went as far as the post office with him when she went back to Fried's house. She said she would be back in an hour but she did not come.

Mr. Walls said every effort had been made to find the girl but without avail. She had evidently been spirited away. They had found out where she stayed Saturday night but could not trace her any further.

Sergeant Langley said on Friday morning he met Fried on the corner of Bastion and Government streets. Fried said, "Langley, what would you do if you had a girl in your house and the father wanted to get her?" He said she was about 16 years old. He answered that if the father wanted the girl he should let him have her. About 5:30 in the evening Officer McNeill came in the office with the prosecutor May, who told him that he had lost his daughter. He (witness) sent McNeill with May to Fried's house. Shortly afterwards he met Fried again walking very fast. Fried said, "Did you send Officer McNeill to my house?" He answered "I did." Fried said the police can have the girl if they want her but immediately afterwards said "I don't know whether they can as I have seen lawyers." He, witness, said "I believed Fried you are harboring the girl." He then left him.

The case was adjourned until this morning at 11 o'clock.

The case was resumed this morning at 11 o'clock, there being a large number present. Mr. Walls said the police were unable to find the girl, and therefore he must close his case. He had sent for the mother of the girl. The girl was last seen about 9:30 on Saturday evening in charge of Mrs. Fried. She has not been seen since. The only people who know where the girl is are the Frieds. Why could his learned friend not produce the girl?

His Honor said there was another course to obtain the girl He offered to adjourn the case to give the prosecutor a chance to obtain more evidence.

Mr. Walls said if he kept the case open the girl would only be kept locked up longer.

His Honor said he had been informed that the girl had been seen on the street at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Taylor asked for the dismissal of the defendant.

His Honor said he had asked the prosecutor several times when the offense began. They answered that it was a continual offense. If the abduction had taken place in Seattle he had no jurisdiction.

Mr. Walls said it was a clear case of abduction when the girl went back to Fried's shop.

His Honor asked to be shown where in the evidence it implicated Freid as being connected with the case.

Mr. Walls—Where the witness stated that Fried said go with your father, and he would get a lawyer to fix it all right.

Mr. Taylor—In order to convict the defendant it must be shown that he took or detained the girl. It is not shown that Fried detained or took her. The father could see the girl in Fried's house when he went there. What Fried said was "Go with your father, and I will see a lawyer about it." The mere fact of the girl remaining in Fried's house does not constitute an offence.

His Honor—Mr. Walls has not even proved that the girl is unmarried.

Mr. Taylor—There is not a bit of evidence to show that Fried induced the girl to leave her father; on the contrary, he induced her to go with the father.

His Honor—The evidence of Sergt. Langley is of importance, especially where Fried had a conversation with Sergt. Langley.

In answer to His Honor, Mr. Walls said he appeared for the private prosecution. He had been originally instructed by the Attorney-General, but had latterly been acting on his own responsibility. The case was then adjourned until 4 o'clock, when His Honor said he would give a written judgment.

Mr. Fried, the defendant in the case, speaking to a TIMES reporter this afternoon said the whole facts of the case could be put in a nutshell. He said that about three weeks ago he and his wife were visiting in Seattle when Hattie May came down to the boat and asked them if they would allow her to stay with them. If she came to Victoria. She said she could work and would pay her board. Her father, she said, ill-used her, made her work and lay in the house and drank away her earnings. He (Fried) consented to bring her over, and he was now trying to save the girl, for if she did go back to her father she would soon run away again, and then the consequences might be serious for the girl.

4:20. Fried was discharged.

Canada in British Schools.

The study of the history, geography and resources of the Colonies has become very popular in the various schools in the different parts of the United Kingdom during the last two or three years. Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner of Canada, tells me that he prepared a special edition of the reports of the tenant-farmer delegates, who visited the Dominion last year, for use as readers in schools, and that his offer to supply a reasonable number to schoolmasters and to schoolmistresses was largely availed of, no less than 12,000 copies having been disposed of in that way. He showed me several letters that had been received acknowledging the arrival of the pamphlets, and they certainly disclosed the great est interest in the subject. The development of the Colonies and the future position they must occupy in the Empire were often alluded to, and several of the letters stated that the boys and girls took the keenest interest in that part of their studies, often asking to be allowed to take the books home to read them.—Scotsman.

Monetary Times Portfolio Edition.

This very handsome volume, issued by the well known and popular Monetary Times, of Toronto, will no doubt commend itself to the public. Its reading matter gives a condensed but graphic and comprehensive review of the financial, commercial and industrial development of Canada. Its treatment of its subject has the fault in places of attenuation, but withal there is a solid fund of information supplied. The volumn commences with a short historical sketch of the country, which is followed by descriptions of the two great cities, Montreal and Toronto, with a review of their rise and progress. Then follow briefer chapters on Halifax, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Victoria and Vancouver. All are spoken of in a flattering vein, and the references to the coast cities, though not long are appreciative. Fine photo-engravings of public, commercial and financial buildings in the various places are given. Other chapters follow on the banking system of Canada and the insurance business. Next there are articles on several leading industries—iron and steel manufacture, iron shipbuilding, the milling industry, woollen and cotton manufacturing, &c. Wholesale interests, the telegraph system and patents of invention are fully dealt with in an interesting manner. The business man and the general reader will find the volume an exceedingly useful one when they desire to gain ready access to facts and figures relating to any department of business. Of the mechanical skill shown in the production of the book it would be hard to speak in terms of too great praise. It is in shape an oblong quarto, bound in maroon morocco, with gilt edges. The paper used is of the best, and the printing, engraving, press work and binding are all of the highest class. There are of course many advertisements, which are evidently the work of skilled hands, making by themselves a very artistic display.

Merchants Luncheon.

From 11:30 until 2 o'clock and Lowenbrau at the Bank Exchange.

Sara Bernhardt has been having a phenomenal tour in Australia. And here is a bit of news about her. While in this country M. Dammam wrote a new play for Sara in which he endeavored to blend melodrama and a modern society flavor. The piece is called Pauline Blanchard and it was read to the company recently. It was to be played in Sydney. Giacosa's La Dame du Challant was also set down for an Australian production.

FIGHTING IN CONGO.

Natives Capture the Arab Settlement at Stanley Falls.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Word has been received from Boma, the capital of the Congo state, that the Arab settlement at Stanley Falls, about 1400 miles up the river, has been captured by the natives, who revolted against the cruelty and oppression of the Arabs. One hundred and fifty Arabs were killed in the fighting, and the rest were driven up the river and have probably retreated to a large Arab station of Lyangwe. All their establishments at Stanley Falls have been destroyed and there remain only two buildings, in which agents of Congo state are living. This indicates that the natives have not been making war upon the whites, but only upon their enemies, the Arabs. A large force of Congo state soldiers is stationed at the mouth of the Aruwimi river, about 90 miles down the Congo, and the Congo state will probably have no difficulty in asserting its authority at Stanley Falls. It is noteworthy that on two occasions when serious trouble has occurred at Stanley Falls since that station was founded, Tippoo Tib was absent. He was in Zanzibar when the Arabs attacked the State station in 1886 and drove poor Dean into the wilderness, whence he was rescued several weeks later in a starving condition. He is now in Zanzibar when the second series of battles at the Falls have been fought, and this time his own people were on the defensive and have met with disaster.

BRITISH LABOR CONGRESS.

Important Questions to be Discussed—Mr. Gladstone's View of a Labor Party.

NEWCASTLE, Eng., Sept. 7.—The Trades union congress opened here this morning. There were over five hundred delegates present, and they represent 1,500,000 British workmen. Thos. Burt, a Member of Parliament, and of the Royal Labor Commission, was elected president. Mr. Burt is the son of a coal miner, and formerly worked in the coal pits himself.

The congress will discuss a number of questions of great importance to the working classes prominent among which will be the question as to whether eight hours should or should not constitute a day's work. On this subject there is an increasing diversity of opinion.

The state of insurance for workmen and their employers' liability in cases of accident, are questions which are looked forward to as likely to raise a considerable amount of discussion.

The question of municipal workshops will also be discussed, and it is probable that a proposition may be made to form a new national labor party in parliament, in spite of the fact that Gladstone, on being questioned about this matter, wrote a letter deprecating such a movement. The letter was written by Mr. Gladstone to a Dundee delegate, and in it he says: "Far be it from me to hinder the congress forming a party for itself. Indeed, I do not contest that right for every class in the community. If all exercise it we shall have a queer parliament. The practical question, in my view, is to increase the representatives of labor. This increase I have always exerted myself heartily to promote, and continue to exert myself, but I believe the government of the country will continue, as heretofore, to be carried by many combination."

FESTS ON POWDER BARRELS.

Mr. Smalley Thinks the Peace of Europe Very Insecure.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Tribune's special cablegram from London says: "It is curious that at the time when two such high authorities as Lord Salisbury and Prince Bismarck, unite in saying peace, two incidents should have steadily succeeded to show upon what a foundation of powder barrels the peace of Europe rests. The first touches the old battle ground of the Dardanelles. Early in the week the report reached London that the Sultan, under pressure from St. Petersburg, had conceded to Russia a free passage to its war ships through the Dardanelles. It was added with a suspicious exactitude that Russia had been backed up in this request by France. It would be impossible to exaggerate the importance of such an arrangement if it were really brought about. With the Dardanelles free waterway, the Russian fleet could sweep down on Constantinople and rush through into the Mediterranean, making it a Muscovite lake and commanding the world's trade passing through the Suez canal. Of course Russia urgently desires such emancipation. Sue nearly secured it sixty years ago and seemed finally to lose it as the one tangible result of the Crimean war. That fresh negotiations on the subject have been in progress is likely enough and it is even possible, though not probable, that the inscrutable Turk might, for some immediate advantage, be induced to place the key of his empire at the disposal of Russia. Happily Turkey is not the arbiter of the situation, as in England, Italy, Austria and, in a remoter degree, Germany, would have something to say on the subject, considerations which enable us to dismiss the rumor as scarcely worth the attention it has absorbed here and on the continent at this dull season.

The other disturbing element has had more actuality. Here again Russia and Turkey have been at work, using their old tools, Bulgaria and Servia. The Servian government suddenly resolved that the time was opportune for a series of military manœuvres and orders were issued for the mobilization of 50,000 men. This was well enough and perfectly within Servia's right, but the aspect of affairs was altered when it was discovered that the manœuvres were to take place on the Bulgarian frontier. Bulgaria was instantly on the alert, and orders were given for the mobilization of three army corps, destined for manœuvres on the Servian frontier. Only one result could follow from such an artistic arrangement. With a lighted match and a train of powder conveniently disposed, an explosion would be a matter only of days or even hours. Diplomacy was thoroughly alarmed, and by moving promptly succeeded in at least deferring the collision. The porte, acting in the character of suzerain of Bulgaria, plainly informed Servia that the proposed manœuvres must not take place. Russia appealed to the Servian government and said that, under the circumstances, the manœuvres had better be postponed. So the cloud suddenly darkening the horizon has blown over.

Ruin of the English Crops.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Towards the middle of the week it seemed probable that the long spell of bad weather that has played havoc with the crops was broken and that something might be saved out of the wreck, but the burst of fine weather was only temporary. Once more the rain descended. Floods have come, and, beating on fields ripe for the harvest, have quenched the last spark of hope. What makes the trial harder to bear is that the disaster has followed fast on what promised to be an unusually fine harvest. There was not only a bountiful crop, but owing to the failure of the harvest on the continent prices rose, and British farmers began to meditate serenely on the prospect of six shillings per bushel for sound wheat. That dream is over, and the only question is whether it will be worth while, or even possible, to harvest the beaten down product of the flooded fields. Grain already cut is sprouting, and a few more days such as we have lately had would render the crops worthless for bread making purposes. It is not only rain, but wind, that has completed the ruin of the farmers in Kent. The hops might have stood up against the rain, continuous as it was, buth they have been ruthlessly beaten down by the prevalent storms, and whole gardens, which a short time ago promised fair returns, are to-day hopelessly battered. Nor has the fruit culture escaped the scourge, apples, pears and peaches being swept off the trees. It is bitterly felt by the British farmer that England's adversity is America's opportunity, and reports which reach this country of the magnificent harvest in the United States do not relieve the despair with which the British farmer looks upon his own wasted land.

An English Clerical Scandal.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Gloucester is excited over a clerical scandal. Last evening Henry Rudge, the senior curate at Newent, near that city, who was well connected and had been highly respected, died in jail. His downfall had been rapid. A short time ago he began drinking, and it was soon learned by the parish trustees that he was using a large amount of parochial funds. Through the influence of friends, who restored the money, the matter was hushed up, and it was hoped that the minister's failings would be controlled, but, after a brief period of uprightness he again fell from grace, and it became necessary for the parishioners to dismiss him. A week ago Rudge was forced to leave his house for non-payment of rent. Overcome by despair and shame, he attempted to commit suicide, but was prevented from carrying out his purpose, and was sent to jail for the offence of trying to end his life. It is believed that he obtained poison through some friend while in jail and was thus enabled to finally complete the work of self-destruction, as an autopsy shows signs of poison. Very few of the curate's parishioners had an idea of the disgrace into which he had fallen, the prevailing idea being that he was suffering from nervous prostration. The revelations following the suicide have caused a profound sensation.

Rough Times at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The British bark Royal Tar, bound from Newcastle, N.S.W., for Eureka, has put in here in distress. The mate reports that 16 days after their departure Capt. Franklin was attacked with a sort of fever and ague. He died and was buried at sea. The mate assumed command of the vessel after the captain's death. The vessel encountered very bad and foggy weather all the trip till making land at Cape Mendocino. At this time all the stores had been expended excepting flour and tea, and four of the crew had been suffering from ague for several days and were unfit for work, so that the mate had only one healthy man to assist him and they were greatly fatigued. On Thursday, Aug. 15, they sighted a steamer and hung out signals of distress, but the steamer proceeded on her voyage without taking any notice of the call for assistance. The mate now found that the ship would would not work to windward, and consequently kept her way for San Francisco, arriving here and being towed into harbor. The Royal Tar anchored in quarantine grounds. After 99 days at sea the mate and entire crew are sick and worn out.

Egan and Balmaceda.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—A Santiago correspondent, under date of August 8, reports an interview with Balmaceda, then president of Chili, in which the latter claimed that foreign speculators had more to do with the disruption of the government than was generally known, and that a great deal of money had been advanced to the insurgents by foreign capitalists. He refused to state whether or not United States Minister Egan had expressed an opinion as to whether the United States government favored the Balmaceda government or the insurgents, but said the United States minister was very conservative, and had chosen to remain silent in the matter. Balmaceda expressed the opinion that the chastisement which he said Egan had received from the American press, was not merited and that the insurgents were trying to "down" the latter, simply for spite. The interview was brief as the correspondent says the president refused to discuss the army or the state of affairs.

N. P. R. and C. P. R.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—Passengers purchasing tickets over the Canadian Pacific Railway, from Eastern points to San Francisco, have heretofore been given into the charge of the Northern Pacific at Tacoma. For carrying these persons from Tacoma, the uniform charge of $8.12½ was made. This enabled the Canadian Pacific Railway to sell San Francisco tickets cheaper than any competing line, as its overland rates are $5 less than other lines. Both roads appeared to be satisfied with this rate until last week, when the Northern Pacific advanced the rate to more than double its usual charge. The Canadian Pacific is now paying $6.75 for every passenger it sends from Tacoma to San Francisco. The Northern Pacific has announced its intention to maintain that rate and claims that it has a perfect right to do so as the Canadian Pacific has violated its agreement by advertising itself to be the shortest line from Portland to the east.

A Russian Spy in Cabul.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 7.—Gen. Alikhanoff, the well known Russian commander and oriental diplomat, has been arrested at Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan. He is charged with being a spy in the employ of the Russian Government. Gen. Alikhanoff was captured while disguised as a Moslem devotee. It is claimed on his behalf that he is no longer in the employ of the Russian Government, as he was recently dismissed from the military post which he held in the Czar's service. It is probable that stern measures will be taken by the Ameer of Afghanistan, with the prisoner, who is considered by British authorities to be one of the most daring, astute and dangerous men in the Russian service.

Lincoln's Assassination.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6.—A special to the Republic from Parkersburg, W. Va., says:—General T. M. Harris, of Ritchie county, a member of the court-martial which investigated the death of Lincoln and condemned Mrs. Surratt, has just finished a history of the assassination of President Lincoln. The history was commuted from stenographer's notes in General Harris' possession. In the book Harris boldly asserts that Jeff Davis and certain members of his cabinet were interested in and encouraged the assassination of Lincoln. He fortifies his statement by a large amount of documentary evidence. The book will create a sensation.

Accidents to Balloonists.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 6.—Last Sunday two aeronauts met with serious accidents making parachute leaps, one fell in the lake, the other among live electric wires. These accidents did not deter pretty Miss Keifer, sister of one of the injured men, from making an ascension to-day, but she will probably pay for her foolishness with her life. She made the ascent, but her parachute failed to work and she alighted into the lake. The big parachute settled over her and held her down. Before the woman could be taken out she was unconscious. Physicians do not hope to restore her to life.

Irish National League.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Officers of the Irish National League of this city, at a conference meeting yesterday, decided to ignore President Fitzgerald's circular calling for a convention, to be held in Chicago, October 1. Among the reasons assigned for ignoring the call are, first, that the time has not yet arrived for a convention until the Irish leaders on the other side are united; and secondly, local leaders here believe the plan of Fitzgerald and Alexander Sullivan is to have a convention held in Chicago in order to have themselves elected officers.

Seized by an Eagle.

SAULT, STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 6.—While a small baby of John Cowhidge, a Chippewa Indian living on the shore of Echo lake, was playing near the door of his hut yesterday, an enormous bald eagle swooped down and seized the child. The Indian mother rushed out and the bird, after rising a few feet, dropped the babe which was evidently too heavy for it. The fall caused the babe's death. The bird made another plunge for its victim, but was fought off by the mother until the arrival of her husband, who shot it.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Meeting Last Night of the Board of Management—Completing Arrangements.

The board of management of the B.C. Agricultural Society met in the police court room, City Hall last evening, President Ker in the chair. There were present Jno Kirkland, Chas Hayward, Jno Braden, R. Seabrook, Noah Shakespeare, W. J. Pendray, Wm. Templeman and Wm Dalby.

An offer from T. S. Sinclair was submitted, to lay water pipe from the Jubilee Hospital gate to the grounds for $175, which was referred to the building committee.

James Bell, North Saanich, accepted offer to act as judge of dairy products, etc., without charge.

The Jockey Club wrote to the secretary proposing to surrender their gate receipts, and thus make one entrance to the exhibition and races, provided the society paid the club $800, the amount of last year's gate receipts, and guaranteed it against loss. The proposition was on motion accepted. Visitors to the exhibition will therefore have free entrance to the horse races

D. E. Brown, of the C.P.R. Co., offered to carry passengers from Calgary and points west at one fare for the round trip.

The tender of A. McDonald for refreshments was not accepted.

Tenders for the supply of music were received from E. Pferdner, J J Cross, John Adgisheon and T.H. Wagner, and referred to the committee on music.

The arrangement of the programme of sports and the amount to be expended were left in the hands of the committee on sports, and the engagement of caretakers, special officers, etc., was left in the hands of the president and secretary.

LICENSES AND ELECTIONS.

TO THE EDITOR:—If you will kindly spare the space in your valuable paper I will give the outside world an idea of how the present Government of B. C. or their officials administer justice in this district. From 1886 to 1889 the retail liquor license in Golden was $200. In 1890, which was the year of the Provincial elections, it was reduced to $99. In 1891 it was again raised to $150. This has been done notwithstanding the fact that the resident population has not varied by five in the last three years. In addition to this our sheriff and collector has discovered that we are called on to pay a billiard table license this year which adds $10 more to our license. This license has not been collected for the last two years To summarize, it costs $150 more to keep a hotel in Golden the year after the provincial elections than it does the year they are taking place. All of which goes to prove that it would be well for the hotel keepers of Golden if there was a provincial election every year.

Another example of justice I may cite was a case of assault preferred by one of our J. P.'s against our constable (who is an officer of the Provincial Government,) and on which I was unfortunately summoned as a witness. After being taken to Donald, where the case was disposed of by Mr. Evans, J. P. who fined the constable $5 and costs, we were dismissed with a promise that our costs would be paid, but up to the present, about three months after the case, we are still waiting for them.

HARRY CONNACHER.

REFUGE FOR THE DESTITUTE.

TO THE EDITOR:—As it appears from the recent conference of the tram car drivers with the directors, there is to be no improvement in their position, and that they are to continue to work 11 to 12 hours a day, with of course no rest for Sunday, and only half an hour allowed twice a day for meals, this occupation will surely come to be regarded as only a refuge for the destitute." Such unceasing hours, with no day of rest on Sunday, is in opposition to the laws, both human and divine. It may be all very well for President Higgins to say he can easily get a fresh supply to fill vacancies, but will not the general public, whose life and limbs are imperilled by the frequent change of inexperienced men, have something to say upon this matter, with the right to be heard? Already one child's life has been lost and quite recently there have been two misadventures, and should there be any additional disaster resulting from the inexperience of continued new men trying their 'prentice hand in running these cars, such a howl of indignation will be shouted home to President Higgins as will shake even the iron nerves of this determined man. Really, Mr. President Higgins, you are getting quite an autocrat in your way, but remember, "while 'tis excellent to have a giant's strength 'tis tyrannous to use it like a giant." The City Council did not give you such privileges as to use their roads for nothing for so long a time for you thus to abuse the privilege, and even now they ought to call you to account for the over-crowded cars in which on Sundays men, women and children are packed in to "Oak Bay" like so many pigs. The fearful pace also of Fort street cars requires notice and is prevalent with danger.

In face of the liberal patronage given to the cars it is as the height of meanness for President Higgins to have gone East to learn by the treatment of the car drivers there how he could drive a harder bargain with the men here, and for no better or more worthy object than to enrich himself. CENSORIOUS.

ALARMING INTELLIGENCE!

THOUSANDS OF CANADIANS DROPPING OFF!

They Die Owing to Improper Treatment!

Educated and thinking Canadians are alarmed, and have become thoroughly aroused of late, owing to the large number of sudden and unexpected deaths. We were indeed forced to admit that matters look terribly serious for the future of our country. Our intelligent people who can discern the signs of the times, must not be called alarmists, they are true patriots, our honest citizens, having at heart the moral and material welfare of our Dominion.

They clearly perceive that thousands of our men and women are yearly consigned to the silent grave, and know that thousands of others are ready to follow, who are now struggling in the early whirlpool, where they must soon be engulfed, unless some extraordinary effort is put forth to save them.

Improper heart action, or heart failure, is the terrible agent which is now creating such havoc, and so rapidly decimating our population. Physicians know well that this dreadful malady is on the increase, and they look with alarm on the situation. This fatal visitor, "heart failure," is in reality an awful nerve disease; it means unstrung and shattered nerves, and a complete nervous prostration; in many cases it is a paralysis of body and heart.

The first warnings or symptoms of this very prevalent disease should not be trifled with, they are serious and dangerous, and no time should be lost in obtaining relief.

The premonitory symptoms of heart failure are weak nerves, intermittent pulse, dull brain action, lightness in the head, giddiness, faint, weak feelings, short difficult breathing, pains and palpitation in the region of the heart, a drowsy feeling during day time, and sleeplessness and unrest at nights. Some are easily startled at noise or commotion; others are continually experiencing a feeling of some danger coming on, and have constant anxiety and apprehension.

Failure to note any of these symptoms—neglect of these true monitors, will certainly result in heart disease and death.

All the symptoms above noted are a result of nerve depression—a lack of nerve power.

The nerves and brain should, at all times, receive the food which they require, so as to keep the heart action in a healthy condition. When this is accomplished, there can be no danger from heart failure. Physicians have not been able to grapple with this terrible malady when obliged to rely on their own formulæ and medicines. Many medical men honestly advise their patients to use Paine's Celery Compound, as they are perfectly acquainted with its powers, and are aware that its use offers the only hope of cure for weak and irregular heart action.

No other remedy ever brought before the notice of mankind possesses such wonderful merits and extraordinary powers. It is the only remedy for weak nerves and clouded brain that is positively guaranteed to act promptly and give the desired results. No other remedy can boast of such great successes and marvellous cures as Paine's Celery Compound, and its grand record should give faith and courage to all Canadians who experience the slightest symptoms of that dreaded disease, heart failure. Do not delay its use an hour, your condition is critical, and time is precious.

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive to-day, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to a scrofulous sore.

Must Renew Their Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The comptroller of the currency has sent a notice to the cashiers of those national banks which have 4½ per cent. bonds on deposits with the United States treasury as a basis for circulation on which interest has ceased asking them either to renew the bonds at 4 per cent. or substitute some other bonds as securities.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1879 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

COAL

The New Vancouver Coal Mining & Land Co., Ltd.

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam (Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.
